Dear valued patient,

Thank you for choosing Johns Hopkins Community Physicians for your health care needs. We are excited to share that we will relocate our current Columbia gynecology and obstetrics practice to a larger office just a few minutes away:

10710 Charter Drive, Suite 200
Columbia, MD 21044

This move will occur at the end of June, 2023. Please rest assured that all of our providers, staff, services and contact information (phone, fax and website) will remain the same. This new site is located on the Howard County General Hospital campus and offers free, easily accessible parking.

In addition to the move, we are thrilled to announce that the Columbia- and Eldersburg-based practice, Signature OB/GYN, will be integrating with our gynecology and obstetrics team. Under the same management of Johns Hopkins Community Physicians, the name will change to Johns Hopkins Medicine Gynecology and Obstetrics. While the name is different, your care will remain the same, but with the addition of some exciting new benefits. This larger practice will allow for increased access to appointments, a larger gynecology and obstetrics care team including the addition of sub-specialists, and increased provider-to-provider collaboration for continuity of care. Additionally, you will now be able to receive care in Eldersburg, as well as the current Columbia, Fulton and Odenton locations.

If you have an appointment with us on or after June 26, 2023, you will receive an updated appointment letter reminding you of where to go. For the latest information, we invite you to visit jhcp.org/columbia.

We appreciate your patience and flexibility throughout this transition. It is our privilege to serve as your health care providers and we look forward to caring for you in our new location.

Sincerely,

Stephen Martin, M.D.
